TWENTY-EIGHTH YEAR NO. 25.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1905.

PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

29TH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT.

The twenty-ninth annual commencement of the Cedarville High School took place in the opera house last Friday evening. The stage and auditorium were prettily decorated with the class colors, purple and white. The class motto was "Plus Ultra" and was suspended under the proscenium arch. The class and members of the Board of Education took their places while the S. of V. orchestra played the opening number. The invocation was offered by the Rev. H. C. Middleton.

Miss Verna Bird in clear, forcible manner delivered an oration on The Worship of Mars.

Whoever reads history must be strongly impressed with the prominence given to war. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more, for it shows us that war is against the revealed will of God. With these facts militating against warfare and showing that it is not in accordance with our civilization, we may seek the reason of our delay in abolishing this evil. Influences are at work, which lead the people to see the evils of war.

A last great tendency toward peace is found in the increasing goodness of the world. Love, charity, truth and reverence are all more common than they were, and these are the qualities which are for peace. We stand at this hour of our national life at the parting of the ways. From one direction comes the sound of the martial drum beat, and the shout of gathering armies. From the other comes the call of love and truth, of spiritual freedom, of peace and good will the voice of the Prince of Peace.

"The End is not Yet" was delivered by Mr. Olla Daniels. It requires courage combined with determination to accomplish the battles and surmount the obstacles of life. Courage gives force and impulse to effort and if we are determined nothing can keep us from being successful. Many will rush through life with only a dim view of their future and at last will be found farther from the goal than when they started. I believe we are nearing dawn of a coming triumph. The concessions made by the scientific would encourage us to believe that the end will be more glorious than the beginning. Much has been done in the past and much still remains for us to do. Having these thoughts as our polar-star we should adopt the sentiment of Horace Mann, "Be ashamed to be unless you have accomplished something." Our every day life is a battle ground where we have the opportunity of displaying heroism and true nobility of character. And as we go from here to night may those traces of character which we have learned in the dawn, remain with us all through the days of our life-time.

"Heroic Elements in Character," by Miss Phoebe Hanna. Character is an individual matter, the good qualities of a great man may be successfully united, and yet, his character cannot be ours; for we are each the master of our own thoughts, words and deeds. Even the stability and order of divine government depends upon God's truth, so that in a sense, the foundation, principle of the Universe is truth.

"The Crime of Poverty" by Julia Harbison was delivered in a pleasing manner. Some of the greatest and noblest men of America have risen from the humblest and the poorest opportunities. Their youth has been spent in homes destitute of every comfort in life, and with surroundings, where without encouragement of their native genius many have reached their majority before acquiring any opportunity for success whatever. The careers of Booker T. Washington and Fred Douglass afford striking evidence that color is no barrier to success. Frequently upon investigation it is found that they are responsible for the adverse winds that have swept over them that they are lacking in ambition, and good judgment.

Stop! Look! Listen! by Miss Jennette Orr. Impatient and restless, one beautiful afternoon, I started for a walk, not noticing and little caring whether the way led. It was one of those autumnal days, when the foliage of the trees has been slightly tinted by the frost, while summer yet seems loath to leave. Soon however, I observed a railroad crossing, with these words.

Stop, Look, Listen. No goal is too far distant for him who qualifies himself for it with patience. Life is like a winding lane, on either side bright flowers and tempting fruits, which we scarcely pause to admire or taste, so eager are we to pass to some opening of promise in the distance, which we imagine will be more beautiful; but alas! we find we have only hastened by these tempting scenes to arrive at a desert waste. Then as the sailor on the seas goes in the direction indicated by his compass, and other instruments from which he obtains his bearings, so we, guided by the meaning of these directions, stop-look-listen, going as they bid, pursue a careful way to good and praiseworthy end.

"Obstacles Essential to Progress," by Miss Janet Tarbox. "In a battle with a victory over the enemy is a success; on a journey to reach one's destination is success. Are there successes achieved without obstacles? The most difficult obstacles will yield to industry, intelligence and courage. The merchant who profitably extends his trade, the manufacturer who widens commerce, the man of science, or discovery who enlarges the sum of human knowledge has reached a success, that is more or less complete. Again, the man who having his aim in life begins to look for difficulties broods over them, lacks the stamina necessary to win; if there is a determination to win, all obstacles by the help of the Creator can be overcome.

"Creature or Creator?" Miss Florence Williamson. "In this age of progress and enlightenment where do you find yourselves? Are you a weak and humble follower or does your own soul furnish some of the light by which your feet are guided in the untrod path which leads to the end of your life. Evenness of temperament the calm that remains undisturbed and the flood to wash on unhindered may be comfortable and easy, and much to be admired, God created man in his own image." A creative being, a conquering being, a commanding being; a controlling being. Be a creator, design your own universe. Accept the anointing for the holy office of a free, strong, righteous man, of womanhood, capable of adding to the forces that are working for a right adjustment of human affairs. Remember that world dies by conformity to error and loyalty to wrong. You have one supreme duty and that is to contribute something to the life of the world.

"Overlooking the Bosphorus," Miss Mary Williamson. Praise is not flattery, flattery is a poison. Heroes are passing away, others fill their places. The good and great are being snatched from us on every side. Their places must be filled by us. As across we have advanced and conquered all obstacles. The past is secure and the future mapped in darkness. We feel deeply our debt to our teachers and Professor. We have enjoyed each others companionship. Inexorable time decrees a parting.

Supt. Randall's address to the class: "Their main business in this world is to gain an honest living. And no plan of education is just that leaves this prime consideration behind in quest of higher aims. Good precepts has its weight, but without the accompaniment of good example, it is of comparatively small influence. All persons are more or less apt to learn through the eye, rather than through the ear; whatever is seen makes a deeper impression than what is read or heard. Remember that what you will be depends upon your education and the circumstances that surround you. But if youth be devoted to the reasonable cultivation of the physical and intellectual powers if knowledge of your duty to God and man be acquired rightly and used, manhood or womanhood will be worthy and old age venerable."

Pres. S. C. Wright, presented the diplomas to the class after a short address.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES CASE.

Notice has been received by County Clerk Hale of a decision of the Supreme court in the case taken from the Circuit court on error in which J. H. Andrew and others were plaintiffs and W. M. Mitchell was the defendant. The suit came about from the sale by the sheriff by reason of the foreclosure of a mortgage of a sawmill in Cedarville, the property being bought by Mr. Andrew. Then came the dispute as to whether certain equipment of the mill was personal property of real estate, Mr. Mitchell claiming it was personal property and not subject to the sale. The Common Pleas court decided in favor of Mr. Andrews, but it was reversed by the Circuit court, and the Circuit court has now been sustained by the Supreme court, thus upholding Mr. Mitchell's contention.

REMARKABLE PAINTING.

At the urgent solicitation of the Woman's Home Companion, Mr. Paul de Longpre, who is the greatest painter of flowers in the world, consented to make a painting of a flower covered "The Three Most Beautiful Roses," and the painting is without doubt one of the masterpieces of this great artist. This magnificent picture is reproduced in all its original grandeur on the cover of the Woman's Home Companion for June. Although this cover is an accurate reproduction of a painting worth hundreds of dollars, yet the June number, which has this exquisite cover, may be obtained at any first-class news-stand or direct from the publishers for the trivial sum of only ten cents.

Mr. Paul de Longpre is justly styled the "King of Flower Painters." He not only paints roses, but every flower that grows, and is the highest authority on flowers. His paintings are found in the most select homes. Some have sold for as much as seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00).

Artists, art critics and competent judges all agree that the covers of the Woman's Home Companion far excel those of any other magazine.

The Woman's Home Companion is a Magazine which in beauty and excellence, art, stories, illustrations and fashions, etc., excels all other home and family magazines. The Woman's Home Companion is published by The Crowell Publishing Company, New York City, also Chicago, Ill., at One Dollar a year, and is the favorite magazine in nearly half a million homes, where it is read each and every issue by three million people.

JUDGE KYLE SAYS NO DOW TAX FOR RIDGWAY.

Judge Kyle, of the Court of Common Pleas, heard a number of motions on Monday morning and among the most important cases decided was that in which Mr. Charles Ridgway, a Cedarville druggist, was seeking to prevent the county treasurer from collection of the Dow tax, for which he had been placed upon the duplicate. The case has been pending for a year and a half and came up to perpetually enjoin the collection of the tax. Judge Kyle decided in favor of Mr. Ridgway, and enjoined the treasurer from making the collection. Joseph Little and Wm. Henderson are the men alleged to have made the purchase of whisky which resulted in the tax being put on the duplicate. Henderson could not be found to testify, but Little swore that he had made the purchase. Certain circumstances in the case, however, led the court to discredit the testimony of Little and resulted in the finding for Ridgway. The testimony showed that prior to the alleged sale he had been refused whisky by Mr. Ridgway, and he had thereupon made threats to get even, using some very strong language to express himself. He had also been promised pay by some of the temperance element should he succeed in buying whisky of Ridgway and there was no corroborative evidence to sustain the story of Little. The court also remarked that the Magistrate who convicted Mr. Ridgway upon the testimony in the criminal proceedings brought against him (Ridgway), must have been influenced by public opinion, as the testimony in the case did not warrant same.—Gazette.

S. M. RAMSEY MODERATOR.

New York, May 20.—After an agitation lasting for several years, the general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church decided today that instrumental music might be used in the services of churches of this denomination.

The new moderator, the Rev. Samuel Ramsey, of Los Angeles, Cal., presiding, and the retiring moderator, the Rev. William J. Smiley, of Sparta, Ill., introduced the subject by moving a resolution in opposition to the proposed move, the matter having been made a special order for the day.

A substitute resolution which would authorize the session of each church to settle the matter for its own people was moved by Dr. David McKinney, of Cincinnati. There was then a warm discussion, the Rev. Thomas Waters, of Pittsburg, and the Rev. J. B. Steele, of this city, speaking in favor of the substitute. The Rev. Dr. John A. Ford, of Beaver Falls, Pa., opposed it.

The substitute was passed only after a perambulation moved by the Rev. J. L. Hitchie, of Lisbon, Ohio, had been preface and a special condition had been added on the motion of Jas. W. Houston, of Pittsburg. As finally passed the measure was as follows:

"Without hereby approving the action of those who have introduced the use of instrumental music without waiting for the permission of the general synod.

"Resolved, That the question of instrumental aid in the praise service be left to the discretion of the sessions of the congregations under our control.

"In no case shall any session attempt the introduction of an instrument when it should distract the peace and harmony of the congregation."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 29 to 20. The representatives of all of the five presbyteries in the organization voted in the affirmative.

Prof. Foster L. Alexander was deposited last week, as the head of the colored department in the Cedarville schools, as a result of his stand in the temperance fight in that village. Mr. Alexander stood for temperance, and regardless of what his private views might have been on the subject, he certainly showed forth that sort of manliness which should characterize a teacher or any other leader whose life work it is to shape and fashion the character of our young. We are certainly in sympathy with our old friend, and we heartily commend him for the course he took. Cheer up, Alex, this will only strengthen you for greater duties and responsibilities which await you in the near future.

The smiles of our enemies only develop and bring out our latent strength.—Standard and Observer, Xenia.

In the absence of Judge Kyle Friday, Judge Shoup granted a temporary restraining order in an injunction case brought in Common Pleas court by John G. Clemens, of Cedarville, against Vena M. and George W. Harpen, to prevent the defendants from tearing down a fence separating their property from that of the plaintiff.

The latter says that the fence belongs to him, that it has been standing for 35 years, and that it will work a hardship upon him if it is removed.

At a called meeting of council last Friday evening the Ohio Gas and Fuel Company of Columbus was granted a franchise to lay a 'pipe line' through town. The company expects to have gas ready for the coming winter, according to the representatives. This makes the second line in this section, the other being the Buckeye Gas Company of Columbus, which has started to work on laying the pipe line. This company for the present does not expect to furnish gas to towns along the line.

Bancroft's Straw hat opening

We are most emphatically Springfield's leading hatters—leaders both quality and quantity. Never was this fact more patent than in this season's straw hat display—there's not a shape that's fashionable, not a braid that's stylish, we're not ready to sell you at a saving. Exclusiveness pervades the whole showing—that subtle touch of metropolitan correctness which makes even the inexpensive grades attractive. When you stop to consider that our whole store is devoted at this time of year to the sale of Men's, Boys' and Children's headwear you will understand better why we distance all competition.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 5 pound packages. And the price is the same, 14 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12 oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking—Defiance never sticks.

TOWNSHIP BOARD ELECTS TEACHERS.

At the meeting of the Township Board of Education this afternoon the same teachers were retained for the coming year. The board feels encouraged over the past year's work and of course made no changes. The following is the list of teachers: D. L. Crawford, superintendent; G. E. Seigler, musical supervisor; Mary E. Sterrett, No. 1; Effie G. Conley, 2; Dora E. Seigler, 3; Edna A. Townsley, 4; Lulu H. Smith, 5; Sadie H. Hife, 6; Isabelle M. Winter, 7.

AN EXPLANATION.

Through an oversight on the part of the committee which had charge of the High School commencement, Rev. Milligan was not notified that he was on the program to offer the invocation. This accounts for his failure to respond. As Rev. Milligan is always ready and willing to be useful, the committee feels that this explanation is due.

A STRANGE BIRD.

A strange bird which was captured by a Cedarville man and brought to the Donges drug store in this city, will be on exhibition for a few days. No one appears to know just what the species of the strange fowl is. A shot struck it on the wing and disabled it from flying and it was then run down. It proved a game fighter and when a small dog attacked it, the bird used its bill to good effect and the dog afterwards died, the wound made by the bird's bill seeming to have the effect of poisoning the animal. Its body is a brown color with yellow bill of great length and long green legs. It is shaped some what after the fashion of the crane.—Gazette.

The patrons and pupils of District No. 1, of which Miss Mamie Sterrett is teacher, spent last Friday at a picnic at the school house. There were about 80 present, dinner, being served in the building. During the afternoon there was a program of recitations and songs. Miss Sterrett gave prizes to those who had perfect attendance, Ralph Frey and Fred Kerschner being the only ones present all the time. Prizes were for the best grades in spelling to Blanch Turnbull, Clara Martin and William Collins. The entire school received appropriate souvenirs.

LOW FARES WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

Anyone contemplating a trip West may take advantage of the reduced fares for the special Home-Seekers' excursions via Pennsylvania Lines to points in Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Oregon, Washington, Texas and other sections in the west and in all the states of the South.

Stop-over privileges permit travelers to investigate business openings. These tickets will be on sale certain dates during the summer. Detailed information as to fares, through time, etc., will be freely furnished upon application to local ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.—7-16.

TOWNSHIP COMMENCEMENT.

The closing exercises of the township schools were held in the opera house Wednesday evening, there being the largest crowd in attendance that was ever known for anything of the kind. There were seven Boxwell graduates: Mae Anderson, Mary Stormont, Fred Clemans, Lydia Turnbull, Guernie McCoy, Robert Conley, Herman Stormont. Invocation was delivered by Rev. O. H. Milligan.

The careful training and good preparation by teachers was shown in the delivery of the productions by the pupils, each one doing themselves credit. The judges, Messrs. O. E. Brudtute, E. S. Keys, and G. E. Jobs, decided that Lydia Turnbull be given first place and she will represent this township at the County Commencement. Robert Conley was second and Fred Clemans third.

The presentation speech by the superintendent, D. L. Crawford, was replete with good advice. Thediplomas were presented by Maud Harbison. The music conducted by George Siegler, was well received and shows thorough training he has been giving the pupils. The township schools are on par with any town school judging from the Wednesday evening entertainment. Superintendent, musical director and teachers have so faithfully performed their work the past year that expressions from the patrons are of the highest praise.

Mrs. W. H. Blair, and daughter Kathleen, are spending the week with Mrs. Blair's mother, Mrs. Satterfield.
